An Extra Choice

Two weeks ago we expressed the view that it would be a mistake for Mississippi's Democratic convention to nominate a slate of unstructured electors for president. Tuesday they selected two slates, one instructed to support the nominees for president and vice president chosen by the national convention in Los Angeles and the other unstructured.

This dual system, with both groups entitled to the same Democrat on the ballot, has at least one possible advantage over one slate, instructed or unstructured. It leaves less basis for resentment by the losers and should make it easier for the able persons who differed over this matter to get together in the future.

While this editor would have voted with the so-called loyalists, he recognizes that, should enough Southern States go along with Mississippi, unstructured electors could have a decided influence in a close race. We hope we've proved wrong and those who wanted an unstructured slate turn out to have played their cards wisely.

What? Gambling

Possible professional gambling on the Mississippi Gulf Coast was in the news during last week. On Saturday District Attorney Boyce Holloman and Harrison County Prosecutor Gaston Hewes issued a joint statement setting forth their opposition to the return to the area of gambling in any form. Then Monday Governor Ross Barnett said he would not use the National Guard to stop gambling unless in an emergency, defined to mean that gambling was out of control and local officials refused to act.

It was not clear to this editor if Mr. Holloman and Mr. Hewes referred to professional gambling only or would include quarter-a-corner bridge by the women's bridge club and marching for soft drinks. Some of the language would indicate they wear all the way, but they were definite in saying: "The record bears more testimony to the fact that this is a better place economically, socially and morally since open professional gambling has been eliminated."

Governor Barnett will find no reason to send his army to Hancock County if our law enforcement officials, including Mr. Holloman, whose district includes Hancock County, permit no professional gambling, open or otherwise.

The United States newest and most advanced satellite is named Echo I. Except for one detail this paper would be pleased at the similarity in name, but we are not a satellite.

County Agent Notes

By O. O. SWORDS

KEEP COWS MILKING

How can you prevent a slump in milk production? Here are some suggestions:

Try grazing your cows at night. During hot weather cows will graze more at night than in the day time.

If you have a limited acreage of temporary grazing, try turning on only the milking cows for an hour after the morning and evening milks.

Provide additional feed by using droppings like corn as a green chop, or if equipment is not available, cut and feed whole stalks. Also feed stored roughages like hay and silage.

Increase grain feeding in the barn. Weigh milk from each cow at least one day a month and feed each cow according to her production.

Give the cows plenty of salt and clean, fresh water night and day. Make sure the cows have shade in all pastures, even if you have to build a brush harbor for them.

FARM SAFETY WEEK

It will be a good time for us to take stock of where we stand, accident-wise. One of the leading causes of accident deaths among our farm people is drowning.

You can help prevent this by making your farm ponds safer. Here is how: Do not allow anyone to swim alone in your pond. Make sure some life-saving equipment—ropes, boat, long poles, ladders—are on hand when anyone is swimming in your pond.

Make sure that a qualified adult is on hand when any non-swimmers are in your pond.

SHEEP PROFITS

Here are a few pointers on how to help increase profits from your flock of sheep:

Wash any lambs that may still be on the ewe. Check your ewes for parasites and treat them if needed.

A Sign

The Rose grew high its dignity bestowed upon it Monumental happiness And it was proud.

The dew grew high its soft sweet lustre Rested where it did most good And it was satisfied.

The sun rose high its beams upon the lustre of the dew. The dignity that shined up the rose.

And both, encompassed in this light, radiated by power above their own.

One, having their beauty and their love, their unity and their peace.

Try and think over to get them in good condition and try for early milking.

Cull ewes based on the way they produce for you. Those that produce one or more choice 90 pound lamb each year are profitable.

HARVESTING DROUTH CORN

Don't be in too big a hurry to harvest your drouth corn. Make sure first that it is damaged past recovery. When it has fired up and will not recover, it is advisable to cut it for silage. You can consider corn as a supplementary feed beyond recovery when the leaves do not wilt at night for four or five days straight.

No preservative is needed for corn silage, regardless of the stage of growth in which you cut it.

If moisture content of the corn is below around 65 per cent, add some water so that it will pack properly. A good rule of thumb is to squeeze a handful of silage. If it sticks together even temporarily, it should pack enough to get all the air out of the silage. If it remains fluffy and does not stick together, add water.

If you do not have a silage and your corn is damaged beyond recovery, cut the corn and feed it green. Or, cut it and stack it for grinding in feed this winter.

My Favorite Prayer

J. EDGAR HOOVER
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Father and Creator, teach us Thy will, Free us from ignorance; guard us from fear. Give us the insight to ever prize liberty—Thy gift. Strengthen us that we may never betray it for false promises. Guide us that we may be faithful in our daily duties. Grant that we learn the lesson of love taught by Him in whose name we pray.

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:
I deeply appreciate your editorial comment on my part in the Democratic National Convention. It was an experience I shall always remember—at least as long as there are tides.

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:
So glad you had a change of mind. Anyone else, in these perilous times, with the truth so obvious, would do the same.

It would be nice to hear of your changing choice in the Presidential race. If there were anything of value to change to, but it's all MORE of the SAME, in both political platforms; so we voters have no choice. The only redeeming feature in the Republican policies, is their stand for individualism, with less leaning towards leftist socialism, and the big labor goons, who so loudly prattle the rights of the workers, while surreptitiously chiseling away their liberties, for their own selfish interests; which the ultra modern democratic party embraces today.

I am for neither party. My choice, Barry Goldwater, whom I know, was too good to win, he is like a voice crying in the wilderness.

I liked the return of Nixon passed about M. K. in his recent public address to the Convention, that "Mr. K's grandchildren would be living under freedom" this was indeed refreshing; more so, than the one from K about our grandchildren living under communism. God forbid.

Metairie Ceremony Unites Miss Gambel, E.K. Simon

The marriage of Miss Ellen Nalty Gambel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Gambel of New Orleans, to Eugene K. Simon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Simon also of New Orleans, was solemnized at 10 a.m. Saturday in St. Francis Xavier Church, Metairie.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Felix Miller officiated. Bouquets of white blossoms were used about the church.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of white silk satin fashioned with a scooped neckline and elbow length sleeves. A delicate design of seed pearls and embroidery trimmed the bodice and flared skirt which ended in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a dainty crown of seed pearls and tiny flowers, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis combined with English ivy.

Miss Mary Cassard, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Other attendants included Mrs. Charles E. Richards Jr., Misses Mary Christian Reel, also a cousin of the bride, Linda Simon, sister of the groom; Cynthia Jastran and Judith Kemble. Each wore a gown of white embroidered organza featuring fitted bodices with square necklines and cap sleeves. They wore wreaths of white organza petals on their heads and carried bouquets of yellow roses and ivy leaves.

Mr. Simon served as his son's best man, and groomsmen were L. Charles L. Gambel Jr., of El Paso, Texas, brother of the bride, Charles E. Richards Jr., Albert L. Stewart II, Phillips J. Carter Jr., and John J. Cummings III. Ushers included William C. Gambel, brother of the bride, Robert L. Simon, cousin of the groom, E. Wayne Tschirn and Reynolds B. Wagoner.

Following the ceremony was a reception in the garden of the home of the bride's parents. The receiving line formed before a background of magnolia foliage and white flowers. White and yellow blossoms were seen throughout the garden and lower rooms of the house.

Mrs. Gambel wore a gown of blue flowers over matching printed silk with a soft feathered hat, white accessories and a white orchid pinned to her handbag. Mrs. Simon was attired in a beige silk chiffon sheath. A circlet of brown velvet bows formed her hat and she wore matching accessories. A corsage of brown cymbidium orchids completed her costume.

Later in the afternoon, the couple left on a wedding trip, after which they will reside at 7104 Spruce St. For traveling, the bride wore a black and white checked suit, white wreath hat and black patent accessories. Her corsage was of white phalaenopsis orchids.

Among out of town guests were John J. Kelleher, maternal grandfather of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hoefeld of Bay St. Louis. Mrs. Hoefeld is a aunt of the groom.

BEAUTY TIPS
by Mercedes Spahr

IT'S NEVER TOO SOON FOR BEAUTY CARE. Even a seven-year-old looks sweeter with carefully-shaped hair. And a ten-year-old with fly-away curls may develop a permanent "don't care" attitude. Today, when children's fashions are pictured as carefully as your own, you owe it to your daughter to see that her hair is as smart as her Sunday dress.

That First-Beauty Shop Visit. Was ever anything so breathtaking? Ah, how important she feels, wriggling into the comfort of the salon chair and relaxing under the gentle massaging pressure of a good professional shampoo! (She may fret about soap in her eyes at home but see how she luminesces under the hairdresser's attentive care.)

We have a way with Little Women. Does she usually shriek at the sight of a hairbrush? Not she'll wince with wide eyes as one of our competent hairdressers smooths every inch of her tresses. Then, as her hair is cut and shaped we'll tell her just why it should be tapered here, shortened there. We'll teach her to look at her hair with new eyes.

That First Permanent is So Important! It may seem a great deal more to her than even you can guess. A permanent is a permanent and may actually suffer from a straight-hair shampoo. We'll wash with only ever-so-soft girl's curls. You can have her hair permanently set to her liking, with a permanent wave that's permanent, smooth, and that she'll love to a professional hairdresser. Look at what a beauty expert, using professional products and careful hands, can do for your little girl's hair. (No hairdresser ever had a permanent as good as ours.)

Now come with your own hair! You've taught your young-ster a beauty lesson. Now let our competent hairdresser take over the permanent of your own hair. The color and how she wears it. For a permanent, it's a permanent. (Don't tell her, doesn't it?)

For a permanent, it's a permanent. (Don't tell her, doesn't it?)

For a permanent, it's a permanent. (Don't tell her, doesn't it?)

Suitors Give Rehearsal Supper For Son, Miss Peggy Kergosien

Last weekend brought to a close the pre-wedding festivities for Miss Peggy Kergosien who will be wed to Richard Russell at 3 p.m. Sunday at Our Lady of the Gulf Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sitzer, parents of the groom-elect, entertained Saturday night at the Kergosien home with a buffet supper following the wedding rehearsal.

The buffet table, covered with an imported cloth of drawn work and embroidery, was centered with a brass bowl and candelabra. Tiny pompon filled the bowl. Arrangements of white blossoms and greenery were placed about the house.

Guests were the wedding party, their escorts and members of the families.

Two showers fete Miss Kergosien earlier in the week.

A combination barbecue-kitchen shower was given Aug. 10 by Mesdames Earl Buckley and Joseph Plunkett at the Plunkett home on Boardman Ave. The honoree, her mother, Mrs. Horace Kergosien and the hostesses all wore corsages of tiny kitchen utensils tied with green and yellow ribbons.

About 30 guests gathered for the out-of-doors affair and enjoyed the barbecued hamburgers and variety of appetizers. Miss Kergosien received a number of lovely gifts.

The Misses Sue Breath, Emilie Delph and Jean Larroux were hostesses Sunday afternoon for a pantry shower at the Breath home on North Beach. Corsages of tiny green vegetables were presented to the honoree and her mother, and the gifts were presented in an aluminum grocery cart. A milk glass bowl and matching candelabra, holding green and yellow fruits and vegetables and yellow tapers centered the circular refreshment table.

Our Lady Upends Don's in Playoffs

Youth proved to be the deciding factor in the women's softball league playoffs Sunday when league-leading Don's bowed twice to their younger rivals from Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

OLG received the playoff winner's trophy, Don's the league winners and playoff runner-up, Bankston third place in the playoffs, L and N-Moran fourth and A and A 66 consolation trophy.

Sunday's games wound up a successful season and plans for next year are already underway. League President Birch Bankston presented the trophies. OLG opened things up in the first inning of the first game taking a two-run lead but Don's came back in the bottom of the second to score twice on first-baseman Millie Usher's homer and took the lead in the third scoring another. OLG evened the score in the fourth and won the game in the fifth and last inning scoring four. Final score OLG 7 Don's 3. Winning pitcher was Dale Sellier, loser Ann Vogt.

In the second game of the finals, needing a win to stay alive, pitcher Ann Vogt was out to win her own game. In the top of the opening frame with two aboard she homered to chalk up a three-run lead but OLG came back in the bottom of the first to score four and then went wild in the second scoring eight to salt away the game. Final score 15-4.

In the consolation games Bankston took a pair of tough losses from L and N-Moran 4-0 and 12-6. Winning pitcher for both games was Beatrice Lader. On the mound for the losers were Cleopatra Moran and Birdie Faye Cameron. Becky Perkins and Georgetown Stolz each got a homer for Bankston in the second game.

Rodeo Set To Open At Lazy Y

Local horse lovers are staging a 30-mile ride along the Mississippi Gulf Coast from Ocean Springs to the Lazy Y arena today in a welcome to the first professional cowboy rodeo ever staged on the coast which is scheduled here Friday through Sunday.

Arrangements have been made with all the towns along the way for escort by the mayor and city officials along with music as the riders pass through each place, according to Miss Betty Younger of the host Lazy Y establishment.

Meanwhile the professional athletes in big hats and high-heeled boots already have started arriving for the big event which offers a purse of $1,125. That figure probably will be doubled by their own entry fees. Livestock is being furnished by Cotton and Ed Kinney of Sulphur, La. Forty-two head of saddle horses and bareback horses came in early this week, some weighing as much as 1,750 pounds and the bulls were due in Wednesday night.

The rodeo here is one of some 500 approved each year by the Rodeo Cowboys Assn. With contests held under national RCA rules, each is open to the entry of all top pro rodeo contestants in the U. S. and Canada. Money won here will be credited to the world championship standings which decides the titles.

The program will open at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday with a matinee at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Barrel racing with a goat tied down for the women entrants are the lone events open to local amateur talent. Among those expected to participate are Sybil Taffe, Ellen Allison, Lydia Dillmann and James Watson.

SJA Delegation Leaves Sunday For Youth Meet

Thirteen students from St. Joseph Academy are to leave early Sunday from New Orleans by chartered bus with the Louisiana delegation to attend the Catholic Students Mission Crusade national convention at Notre Dame University in Indiana.

Making the excursion will be Virginia Thomas, Dianne Grif-fon, Louise Bufkin, Ursula Favre, Laurie Kiefer, Janet Trapani, Cassie Rhodes, Eran and Yvonne Artigue, Faye Monti, Margo Jacob and two boarding pupils, Jane Lee and Loretta Cognovich.

Accompanying the group will be Sisters Raphael and Leonard and Mrs. H. W. Griffin. Visits in Chattanooga, Tenn., Chicago, St. Louis and Memphis are among those planned along the route.

Math Meeting

Brother Hubert, S.C., assistant principal, Catholic High School, Baton Rouge, will chair the conference. He has just received his MS in physical sciences from Notre Dame University.

A full day's work will be devoted to this part of the program, which, according to Brother Hubert, will be a critical and analytical study of the curriculum of all four grades of high school mathematics.

BHS Season Starts Sept. 9

Practice On for Grid Opener

The hot summer sun continues to bear down but Tuesday afternoon every football gridiron in town was occupied with busy coaches and sweating, padded football players. Footballs sailed high and despite hordes of mosquitoes it was evident that fall weather is just around the corner. First game of the season is scheduled for Sept. 9.

Both coaches, Lance Lumpkin of Bay High and Reuben Ruiz of St. Stanislaus had at least 30 men on their fields but were wary about making predictions about this year's teams. Ruiz said many of the boys he is expecting had not arrived and was not ready to release a probable start-in team.

Lumpkin said it was too early to make any statements regarding this year's team but after the first day's workouts the players seemed to be in pretty good shape, probably due to summer recreational activities including softball. He is working them once a day but intends to have two daily sessions beginning next week.

Conference all-star Bill Watts is gone but Lumpkin has 10 lettermen returning. Last year's second-stringers have gained plenty of experience and Bay High should be stronger in reserves than last year. The lettermen are Milton Bernard, c.; Tommy Godwin, t.; Gregory Necaise, g.; Albert Strong, t.; Woody Alliston, c.; Jim Mayfield, t.; Ronnie Peterson, q. b.; Lester LaFrance, h. b.; Bobbie Van Calsen, f. b.; and Glen Blaise, h. b. Lumpkin is not sure whether guards Henry and Bill Conley will return to the school.

Spence, Griffin Golf Winners

Mrs. C. Spence and Mrs. J. Griffin were prize winners in the T and F tourney staged ladies day Tuesday at Pass Christian Isles Golf Club, the former winning in nine holes with a net 15 after being tied with Mrs. E. Perry and the latter in 18 with a net 29.

In the monthly match play, Mrs. P. Glass defeated Mrs. R. Merritt and plays the winner of the match between Mrs. Spence and Mrs. H. W. Griffin in the finale.

Others participating and enjoying the luncheon were Mesdames J. David, G. Bufkin, J. Burden and her mother, Mrs. Charles McDonald of Washington; W. P. McCutcheon, Otis Wierman, H. Finley, H. Turnpseed, J. Ellis and the Misses Ann Liversedge, Maud and Julia Frey.

Others who will see action include Morris Litzma, h. b.; Larry Favre, g.; Larry Watkins, g.; Larry Breland, c.; Paul Henley, h. b.; Mark Wilkerson, c.; Warren Traub, t.; Tommy Summers, t.; Bill Pahlman, t.; Ted Thomas, g.; Alfred Watts, c. (brother of Bill); J. D. Rutherford, g.; David Smith, g.; Frank Necaise, t.; George Davisworth, c.; Ronnie Russell, h. b.; and Don Saucier, q. b.

Lumpkin mentioned he is expecting big things from Russell and Saucier. Lost to the team through graduation are Watts, f. b.; Barry Stevens, h. b.; Gerald Favre Jr., c.; Floyd Christy, g.; and Melvin Burge, g. Bob Hamilton Jr. is out for the season because of an operation.

Schedule is Sept. 9, Pass Christian here; Sept. 16, Carriere here; Sept. 23, Hancock North Central here; Sept. 30, Harrison Central there; Oct. 7, Long Beach here; Oct. 14, Poplarville there; Oct. 21, Perkins there; Oct. 28, Purvis there; Nov. 4, Ocean Springs here. Playoffs will be two weeks after the last game.

Stamslaus' schedule was not available.

Legion Dance Set

The Rebel Rousers will provide music for a dance sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary Friday from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., at the Legion Home. Admission is $1 per person.

TWO WINNERS - Nolan Lader accepts the winning ball from his son, Nodie Lader, winning pitcher of the final and deciding game Sunday night in 12-16 age Little League baseball playoffs at City Ball Park won by the Sea Coast Echo Scouts. The father was winning pitcher 20 years ago for Sanitary Bakery when they beat Waveland three times for the city softball championship in 1940.

Scoops Capture League Playoff

In a rain-shortened game the Sea Coast Echo Scoops took the Little League 12-16 age championship by downing Youth Center 7-3 Sunday night in a thriller-packed game under the lights in City Ball Park.

It was a best two out of three series, the Scoops having edged Youth Center in the first game Saturday, 9-7. The regular schedule had ended in a tie between the Scoops and Fahey for second place with Youth Center on top of the heap. In a sudden death game Friday the Echo topped Fahey for second slot, 5-3.

All three games were featured by the fine, almost professional twirling of Danny Henry and Nodie Lader who took turns on the mound for the Scoops. Starting for Youth Center was power-hitting Arthur Jacquillard who led the league with an amazing .583 average.

Lader was given credit for the win Sunday holding Youth Center hitless until relieved by Henry. Losing pitcher was Michael Lee who lost a toughie, the official scorekeeper recording all Echo runs as unearned. The Scoops got going in the second inning scoring two runs, two more in the fourth and three in the fifth. YC went scoreless until the last inning when the lads started a rally that appeared about to earn them at least a tie but Henry bore down and retired the side with three earned runs. "These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck... but not our Chevy"

Few trucks are subjected to the body-racking beatings that are part of a day's work for this Chevrolet Series 60' pulpwood hauler. It's owned by J. E. Fox, North Carolina logging contractor. As Bobby Fox, a partner in the business says, "Loaded with pulpwood, we drive over stumps and potholes you'd think would tear the truck to pieces. These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck, but not our Chevy. We can average an extra load a day... make $45 to $50 a day more with this Chevy than we can with the others."

In every wet class these Chevis are doing more work at less expense than trucks have ever done before. Drive one of your Chevrolet dealer's. It's an experience that could pay you big dividends.
